

What They Get.
The honest old fellow who cleans out a bank, with a broom, for a dollar a day.
Gets only the courtesy shown to a dog, except while he's drawing his pay.
The burglar who cleans out a bank at night, with a jimmy and powder and saw.
Gets only a sentence, to pay for his pains, that's the farthest extent of the law.
The trusted official who cleans out a bank gets the cash and he's nothing to fear.
But why should the crookedest one of the three be acclaimed as a "financier"?

THE DIVIDED FAMILY.

Jimmie—Where are your folks going this summer?
Tommy—Don't know yet. Ma wants society and pa wants boating and fishing, but I am backing up pa.—N. Y. Truth.

Economy is Wealth.

Lady of the House—Did you mail my letter, as I told you, Susan?
Hired Girl—Sure, mum, I did; but I had it weighed first, and as it was double weight I put another stamp on it.
Lady of the House—That's right; only I hope you didn't put the extra stamp on so as it would obliterate the address.
Hired Girl—Indeed I didn't, mum; I just stuck it on top of the other stamp, so as to save room.—N. Y. World.

Looking Forward.
"When I am rich," he said, haughtily, "I will return and taunt you with the opportunity you have missed."
"When you are rich," she answered, calmly, "I trust you will offer to pay for the broken leg of that spindle-limbed gilt chair."
And he went forth with a hollow groan.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Suspicious.
Landlord (to agent)—I wish you'd keep a close watch on the people who have that house on X street. I'm afraid they're up to something.
Agent—What has aroused your suspicions?
Landlord—They haven't asked for any repairs this month.—Cleveland Ledger.

The Financier.
He says he's fully satisfied that when he gets a chance
He'll fill the nation's treasury and straighten out finance;
But, since that's in the future, he would feel quite gratified
If you'd buy him a cup of coffee, with a sandwich on the side.
—Chicago Times-Herald.

His Silence Explained.
"Mr. Bluffy," she said, graciously, "you are one of the most original men I have met for ever so long. You haven't said a single word about the weather."
"No," he said, with a tinge of regret in his voice. "I couldn't say what I thought about this weather in the presence of ladies."—Tit-Bits.

Why She Let Him.
Cholly Chumpleigh (fervently)—Miss Coldeal, Ethel! May I call you Ethel?
Miss Coldeal—Yes, I think you may, as—
Cholly Chumpleigh—Oh, thank you, Ethel! Thank you!
Miss Coldeal—It isn't my name.—N. Y. Journal.

Anything Handy.
When Mr. Jones and Miss Smith made a match
The ladies said he was a splendid catch.
But since they married comes the news so grim—
He needs to be—she throws so much at him!
—N. Y. Tribune.

WASTED PHILOSOPHY.

[Copyright, 1897, by Mitchell & Miller.]

"If thine enemy smite thee on the right cheek—"
"Look out better for him next time, and pound his head clean off before he can get within so much as a foot of your nose."

Seemed Appropriate.
"What sign do you think I ought to put up in front of my place of business?" asked the man who had opened a morgue.
"Remains to be seen," suggested the friend who had dropped in.—Chicago Tribune.

A Verbal Distinction.
"There are a great many men looking for work," said the philanthropist.
"Perhaps," said Senator Sorghum, as he laid aside a pile of letters; "but it seems to me there must be a great many more looking for positions."—Washington Star.

By Comparison.
Tom (rapturously)—That dairyman's daughter is a beautiful creature. She has hair as golden as the butter her father sells.
Dick—Yes, and eyes as blue as the milk he sells.—Up-to-Date.

Holds Her Age.
Mrs. Wainwood—I was speaking with Miss Elder to-day. She says that everybody tells her that she holds her age remarkably.
Mrs. Grimm—Yes; she has been 30 for the last six years, to my knowledge.—Boston Transcript.

Figuring It Out.
Day—Why do you claim that that headlight of yours is a jewel? Everybody knows it is paste.
Weeks—I can prove it—paste has consistency, and consistency is a jewel.—Chelsea Free Lance.

A Domestic Difficulty.
"It's too mean," pouted the young housekeeper. "She is very disoblighing."
"Who?" inquired her husband.
"The servant. I have discharged her and she won't go, and I think it's real impertinent of her."—Washington Star.

A COUNTERFEITER CAUGHT.

The Police of Syracuse Make an Important Capture.

On Monday the 15th Harold Marquisee, of Utica, N. Y., was arrested in Syracuse, N. Y., on a warrant sworn out by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., charging him with forgery. On the 15th of December Marquisee visited a photo-engraver in Syracuse, saying he was the representative of the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., and arranged for the making of a full set of plates for the direction sheets, labels, etc., of the famous Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. News of this reached the home office, and no time was lost in arranging for his arrest when he should return for the plates. He returned on the 15th, and was accordingly arrested and is now in jail in Syracuse awaiting examination, which occurs on March 2d.

This arrest proves to be an important one. In addition to various plunder, such as medical books, typewriters, rugs, etc., found in Marquisee's trunk when arrested, the police also found counterfeit coin both in the trunk and on his person; and in a search of his apartments in Utica found a complete outfit for counterfeiting consisting of crucibles, bellows, nickel, lead, bismuth, antimony, a small blacksmith forge, a charcoal furnace, and several plaster-of-paris molds. The United States marshals want him just as soon as Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. are through with him, and, no doubt, he will be sentenced for a long period.

In selecting Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for his counterfeiting operations, he showed his knowledge of the proprietary medicine business; for these pills are in such great demand that they are easily sold at any drug store in the United States. His scheme was to work the country druggists and sell his imitations at a discount of from 5 percent to 5 percent, explaining the reduced price by the fact that he had picked them up in small lots and at a discount from dealers who were overstocked. By working fast and making long jumps, he would have secured many hundreds of dollars in a short time. The proprietors of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are most fortunate to have caught the rogue, before he had fairly started, and to have thus kept these spurious goods out of the market.

On Time.
And very early too. That's what any one should be in treating one's self for inaction of the kidneys and bladder. The diuretic which experience indicates as supplying the requisite stimulation to the organs without exciting them, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Don't delay; kidney inaction and diseases are not far apart. For fever and ague, dyspepsia, constipation, rheumatism and nerve debility, also, use the Bitters.

"When I Saw —your advertisement

I thought that it was probably like the announcements of many other makers of harvesting machinery—big blow and little show; but I'm ready to surrender; go ahead, gentlemen, you're all right! I bought one of your binders last season and it is equal to any claim you ever made for it."

This is the condensed essence of what Mr. Thomas Carney, of Washington Court House, Ohio, has to say about the McCormick Right Hand Open Elevator. The claims made for McCormick Machines are strong claims. That's because

MCCORMICK

Machines are so constructed that strong claims for them are justified. The machine you want will cost you more than the other kind, for the simple reason that it is worth more; that's all—there's no other reason—and in the end you'll be glad you paid the difference, because there's nothing cheaper than the best.
